Cookie Policy

In order to make the Dover Transport Museum website more user friendly and to help us to improve our service, we have the ability to put small quantities of information on your computer. This information is commonly known as “cookies” and most websites use them.

Cookies measure how the website is used and from that we can determine its effectiveness and make improvements. The cookies that we may use are not used to identify individuals and can be deleted if wanted. For further information regarding cookies please visit the web address www.aboutcookies.org

Our use of cookies

We do not currently place cookies from our website, but this may be subject to change as our needs change. Our website is hosted by www.one.com and one.com may use its own cookies. Please visit the one.com site for further information.

Google Analytics

We may use Google Analytics to gather information about how our website is used and may, from time to time, use other third party services for similar purposes. This is to ensure that we are meeting users' needs as part of our continuous efforts to improve the site.

Google Analytics retains information about what pages are visited how they are arrived at and also what links that are selected. No personal information is gathered or stored and we do not share any information with Google. Users can opt out of this by using the Google Analytics opt-out browser add-on.

More information can be found on Googles' own website.
